As Hurricane Anita veered to the southwest yesterday, building up intensity over the Gulf, local Civil Defense officials hoped the movement would just leave a false alarm to be entered into the Mississippi coast record books.

But, refusing to be outdone, by Anita, CD Director Robert J. Boudin plans to

Court relief

A petition has been filed in Southern District Court, Biloxi, by Walter James Phillips, attorney, on behalf of the City of Bay St.Louis, seeking relief on the case of a recent court of appeals decision upholding the assessment of $375,000 payable by the city in the case of James Warner, III.

petition filed

Warner sustained neck injuries after diving-from a still-unfinished-municipalpier on July 4 weekend, 1969. Following the accident he remained paralyzed and died late 1975. The base of the appeal, filed Tuesday, is that the city lacks sufficient resources to meet the judgement and is therefore asking for an adjustment of the debt. Mayor Larry Bennett said yesterday That he hopes the judge is a little more sympathetic to the city's position than in the past.

He again stated that he did not think 7,000 people should be burdened in paying for 20 years because of the carelessness of one person.

Stieffel takes top honors

Cindy Stieffel is on her way back to Bay St.Louis from Beach Haven, New Jersey, with the second sailing championship in as many weeks for the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Stieffel and crew, Judy McKinney and Amy Chapman, this week won the United States Womens' Racing Union Championships.

.To claim the national victory, Stieffel *captained her Flying Scott class boat to seven first and one second place, beating her nearest competitor, Debra Lindgeran of the State Harbor Yacht Club, South Massachusetts Sailing Association, by a considerable margin in the round robin series.

Cindy's trophy will be added to the growing championship collection of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club along with Marc Eagan's. Eagan won the North American Flying Scot championship last week at Charlevoix, Michigan. Eagan and his crew, Ed Turnipseed and John Levy took the championship with a score of 8½ over second place Brad Davis of Dallas, Texas with a

The Waveland Civic Association's entry into the telethon with telephones installed especially for the purpose, marks the first time Hancock County residents have been provided the opportunity of pledging directly to the campaign without having to place long.

The telethon has been rated by the A.C. Neilsen Company as having viewer ratings surpassing those of the Miss America Pageant, with nearly 34 million homes (48 percent) being tuned to the performance last year.

... Get To Know Him...

Many people, unfortunately, give little or no thought to the selection of a funeral director until his services are needed. Then this important decision must be made suddenly, without sufficient time for investigation or comparison. For this reason, we earnestly recommend that some thought be given to this matter in advance. It is not morbid to do this-merely good, common sense.

One safe guide to follow is the same method used to judge the capabilities of any business or professional man. Another is the recommendation of friends. Then there are such explicit points as his standing in the community; the type of funeral home he maintains; his ability to render intelligent and understanding service.

The person you will some day rely on for a very personal and intimate service will welcome the opportunity to discuss funeral service and funeral costs with you. Your investigation of all that he has to offer will cause no embarrassment either to you or to him, and you will be under no obligation whatsoever.

Residents of Hancock County can make a pledge by dialing 467-9248 or 467-4134 between the hours of 5 p.m., Sunday and 7 p.m., Monday. Many volunteers have signed up to man the telephones during this period.

Waveland Mayor John Longo, Jr. and Bay Mayor Larry Bennett are scheduled to answer the phones on Labor Day between the hours of 9 a.m. to noon, while our managing editor, Jake Jacob, has agreed to man the phones from 11 p.m., Sunday until 2 a.m., Monday.

Now if you wonder what you can do to help - all you have to do is place a phone call to either of the above numbers during the Telethon and make your pledge to the Muscular Dystrophy.

Funds raised through this nationwide Telethon help support Muscular Dystrophy Association's worldwide research programs and its network of free clinics throughout the U.S., Puerto Rico and Guam.

A hearty congratulations to the City of Waveland, Waveland Civic Association, workers and pledgers and all involved in this fine project.

By the way, we understand that Jake Jacob is challenging the Mayors of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, that he will receive more pledges in dollars and cents (not sense) than either of them during their three hours manning the telephones. Jake has gone so far as to say that he has $10.00 to the fund to back this challenge.

Top of the morning to those in ECHO land. As you read this final chapter of 'Whittlin' With Whittle" yours truly has departed the scene. Yes, a new assignment, which we can not name at this time, has sent us on our way. Knowing that the new assignment will be an onward and upward move, till find it most difficult to leave such nice people as you and such a great place in which to live. Yes, things are better on the Gulf Coast.

As we sat down last Thursday to offer final chapter (and that's not Walking Tall), our memories drifted backward over the past 10 months to the people and places. It is most difficult to try and name all those who have been so kind and helpful to the old boy from the mountains of north

A special thanks to the many officials and just plain ole good folks who helped in so many ways.

And saving the best till last, my "family" here at the ECHO. You. could't ask for a nicer bunch of folks to work for or with. From the publisher's desk to the back shop, they've all been the best.

Often one would not attempt to name names, but maybe we will not leave anyone out. And to start at the top, we would have to began with publisher Cuevas. Ellis has certainly been more than a boss, he's a great guy and a true friend. I only hope some day to return only half what he has meant to me.

Highway Safety Program.

Opinion/Jake Jacob

The matter of statistics how they are amassed

Mississippi authorities are again asking the cooperation of people throughout this state in the observance of traffic regulations over the Labor Day weekend holiday.

James Finch, commissioner of public safety, in his annual message on this topic starts off giving an interesting collection of statistics, numbers concealing the amount of personal pain and cost in their compolition.

"The Mississippi Highway Patrol salutes all working men and women during the upcoming 78-hour Labor Day observance.

"Having one working day off is usually enjoyable and we hope yours is, but being unable to work because of injuries received in an accident, especially an automobile accident, is tragic.

"The Department of Public Safety records show that 33 of the ninety automobile accidents taking place on MHP controlled highways during the Labor Day observance last year resulted in injuries. Some citizens received permanent injuries, some were crippled, some were scarred, and eight were killed.

"Of the ninety accidents, 34 involved drivers between the ages of 20 and 24. Thirty-one of the accidents took place on Saturday.

'The Labor Day observance was established in 1884 to honor the nation's working force, but since it is the last major holiday of the summer, the increased traffic in Mississippi-will be an extra burden on Mississippi Highway Patrol (MHP) officers and they will not have the day off.

"Our officers will be patrolling the state in an effort to keep you safe drom the reckless driver, or one driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol, or to give assistance in case of emergency.

"Our men our loyal and dedicated professionals and your safety is their business.

"Please assist them during the Labor Day holidays by obeying the laws and practicing safe driving habits, Finch said.

One other little set of gems was released by the commissioner.

The 'gem collection' was in effect a listing of the five principal causes of past Labor Day holiday accidents.

These he gave as:

- l. Failure to yield the right-of-way
- 2. Inattention
- 3. Following too close
- 4. Improper passing
- 5. Driving while intoxicated (DWI)

To observe basic traffic safety laws when the highways are crowded with motorists, each with his own destination and holiday plans, is an exercise of common sense and good judgement we all should observe.

The increased presence of the MHP will serve to keep speeds down, and the practical aid they render will do much towards keeping the higways open.

The MHP is to be commended for their efforts on our behalf.

After all, the life their trying to protect is ours. The cold statistics of disaster will probably amass whatever they do in an effort to lessen their volume.

Beach clean-up

Sea Coast Echo Bay St. Louis, Ms.

Having just moved to Waveland two weeks ago, I am appaled at the condition of the beach area near my street. There is broken glass, beer cans, bottles, you name it, strewn all over the block area we use:

The beach was one of the reasons we chose Waveland to make our home after living all over the world (my husband is retired Army), however, it is most hazardous and an eye sore which certainly doesn't enhance the I have been to the Waveland City Hall, the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis, made numerous phone calls and all I seem to get is a big run around.

Doesn't anyone care or have you all gotten used to the unsightliness of this

I no one will accept responsibility for cleaning the beach, why can't a barrell be placed there and I'll be more than willing to clean up the area I use.

Board resentment.

Dear Editor:

As a voter, taxpayer, and parent of children of Hancock North Central School, I was under the impression that when someone was elected to the Hancock County School Board that they were representing the people of the county and try to make the school system operate efficiently, but as of August-23, 1977, I was informed by a board member that how he voted was his own private opinion. If the board members cannot give reason for their agreement or disagreement of a vote, what is he or she doing in office and where do the people of our democratic society fit in? People who let their personal opinions interfere with the hiring of qualified personnel are not in the office for the betterment of our school system. It has been brought to my attention that by my attending the School Board meetings and looking out for the well being of my children that I am involved in something that was none of my business. If my children and their well being is not my business.

I would certainly like to know whose it is. I would like to urge each parent-ofchildren of the Hancock County School system to attend the School Board meetings and see just how your school is being operated, since this is the second largest business in the county, although you will be received with resentment from the majority of the Board members.

A concerned parent, Ann Rester Rt. 3, Box 356 Picayune, Ms., 39466

Problems

Editor, The Sea Coast Echo 112 S. Second Street Bay St. Louis, Mississippi 39520

I have been subscribing to your paper for several years and am glad I read it thoroughly. In your August 25 issue was a list of delinquent taxes for the City of Waveland and I saw our name. Needless to say I was quite upset and embarrassed as I had my cancelled check for the payment of these taxes.

I have since written a letter to the tax collector sending a copy of this check, hoping to correct this gross error. I wonder how many other people have had a similar situation of embarrassment? I will add this is not the first time we've had trouble with the bureaucracy of the City of Waveland. We recently had a problem with the Sewerage department on obtaining our sewer tap, not with the ladies in the office who were most helpful, but the supervisor. We had to pay the additional $175 fee for new construction for a lateral to be made on the sewer line that went in front of our property, on our side of the street and we had a garage on the rear of the property. We were told the sewerage contractor probably didn't put a lateral because this was a vacant lot. Our property in one block from the beach in a very residential area, with city water and electricity. I'm just wondering what will happen

Yours very truly,

Mrs. John E. Brandt, Jr. (Editor's note - Fees quoted above are in accordance with the ordinances of the City of Waveland - E.C.)

The day-to-day operation of the Hancock County Youth Court is the responsibility of Youth Court Administrator, Charles E. Carter, Jr., and his staff. The court is located in a newbuilding on Court Street, built with the cooperation of state, local and federal governments, dedicated last year in memory of Dan Monroe Russell, Sr., former Chancellor and first Youth Court Judge of this County.

"All offenses except traffic violations involving juveniles are handled by the Youth Court," said Carter. "Under Mississippi Law, the Youth Court has original jurisdiction in all proceedings concerning-delinquent,-battered,_and_

The most common cases before the will be needed. Hancock County Youth Court involve handle these cases either officially or unofficially. Official handling of a case would mean that a formal written petition is filed and docketed in court. This asks that the child be adjudicated a delinquent and that something be done by the Court in the child's interest if found to be delinquent. The child and his parents or guardian are notified; according to law, of a hearing on the petition before the judge of the Youth Court. The same rules of evidence that apply in adult court also apply in this adjudication hearing. If the child is adjudicated to be delinquent, based on the evidence presented in Court, the Youth Court will then assume jurisdiction over the child. The Court may order one of the following alternatives: 1) It may place the child on formal probation with written rules of probation given while the child is placed in the care and custody of his parents; 2) It may place the child in the custody of his parents on non-reporting probation without written rules of probation; 3) It may place the child in a foster home or a group home: 4) The Court may deny the child his freedom and may commit by the youth counselor, after talking with the parents and child, as to whether or not a warning regarding the offense is sufficient. In some cases the counselor, the parent and the child all feel that the specific reason the child is before the court is incidental and that the child does not have any outstanding problems on which to work.

Other times, however, it is decided there is a definite problem between parent and child regarding the manner of communication, or there are definite neglected children residing in Hancock problems with the child's functioning in school and more counseling sessions

Additional counseling is also child. There are no written rules of probation at this level of handling. Instead the Court tries to involve the parent and the child in making some decisions for themselves as to what is

The Hancock County Youth Court's main function and purpose is to help the juvenile become a law abiding citizen. If this can be achieved by the unofficial handling of a case, then the Court's philosophy is that this is the best manner of handling.

There is evidence that this is actually beneficial for these types of juveniles in order to keep them out of the official juveniles courts system...

Season starting soon

St. Stanislaus faces final week

by RANDY LANKFORD

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws are facing their final week of preparation as other teams take to the field this Friday and Saturday.

Although the Rack-a-Chaws start their season a week later than others they do not get an extra week of practice as might be thought, according to head coach Bill Poole.

"Right now, we're in the position that the public schools" were in last week. Although we don't play for another week, we have had a week less practice than the public schools. We didn't open school until a week later than the rest of them. So right now we're not really ahead."

Poole felt that his team has progressed greatly in the last week or two as the first game grows near. "It's hard for the players to come out here and work hard every day with no game in sight. Now that that first game is just over the horizon, they are starting to work harder and we have had some real good practices and are making a lot of progress," added the coach.

With another week of practice the Rocks will make the most of it as they prepare to meet Pearl River Central in the opening game of the season on Sept. 9.

Offense should be the name of the game for the Rocks this year as the entire offensive backfield returns from last year's 5-5 team.

Poole claims that the returning backs are slightly ahead of the offensive line but adds that the line is making good progress. Poole also added that the Rock-a-Chaws needed work on the defensive side of the ball and stated that his team would be working hard on that phase of the game.

Returning in the backfield for St. Stanislaus will be junior quarter back Peter Bernheim. Bernheim comes into the season at 5'8" and 165 pounds. Also returning from last years backfield will be senior Greg Hammer at fullback. Poole stated that his team will be depending heavily on the fullback. Hammer is a 170 pound 6' senior.

Bill Kergosien will be back at tailback for the Rocks. Kergosien, another senior, will weigh in at a scant 134 pounds for the Rock-a-Chaws. Although small, Poole claims that Kergosien can run with the best of them.

The Rock-a-Chaws will be looking for a more balanced offensive attack and Poole predicts that Bernheim will be passing more this year to earn some more respect for the Stanislaus running game. Although the team will have "a little experience" according to Poole, he feels that the biggest factor for the St.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY for Class of 1927, St. Joseph's Academy was celebrated at a lunch last weekend in the home of event co-ordinator Mrs. Mary Breath on Beach Blvd. The girls, who here appear on the steps of SJA, were resplendent in caps and gowns for this graduation portrait, and came from three states. Their home room teacher was Sister Louise Raphael. Mrs. Breath was assisted in preparations for lunch by son-in-law, Jack B. McGuire, who composed poem included in mailed program; youngest daughter Susan (McGuire), who later helped receive the guests, and at the lunch by her other daughter Rusty (Balch), who greeted the reunion participants. On the steps, from top are: Erin Saucier Orlowich, Lafayette, La.; Aithea Black Mudge, Rallegh, N.C.; Vivian Blaize Weilbaecher, Metairie, La., Evelyn Boh Gubler, Metairie, La., Anna Lejeune Weston, Jackson, Ms.; Margaret Blaize Egan, New Orleans, La.; Mary Bourgeois Breath, Bay St. Louis; Lila Glennon Porter, Daphine, Ala.; Alberta Beyer, Bay St.Louis; Beatrice Smith, New Orleans

REUNION was well underway on Sunday when class posed for their Diamond Anniversay portrait. Present for momentous occasion were, from left, Lila (Glennon) Porter, Daphne, Ala.; Beatrice Smith, New Orleans; Mary (Bourgeolos) Breath, Bay St.Louis; Vivian (Blaize) Weilbaecher, Metalrie, La.; Erin (Saucier) Orlowich, Lafayette, La.; Sister Louise Raphael; Alberta Beyer, Bay St. Louis; Evelyn (Boh) Gubler, Metairie, La.; Anna (Lejeune) Weston, Jackson, Ms.; Margaret (Blaize) Egan, New Orleans, La. Absent from reunion was Althea (Black) Mudge, Raleigh, N.C. who was forced to decline at the last minute due to the death of her husband.

A Senior Citizen Center is a place where the "grey power" of this day and age can congregate and discuss a congregate luncheon every noon, five days a week, then share in the various activities and workshop's.

Senior citizens at their center do not sit back and sing "Old Rocking Chair's Got Me," or feel sorry for each other, instead they enroll in the various classes being conducted by volunteer instructors. Classes and instructors in Bay St. Louis are: art (oil painting) Carl Baldenhofer; Bible, Rev. Clark; ceramics, Anna Mae Roppolo; drawing (water color), Cherie Arceneaux; "horticulture, Wilma Miller; quilting, Agnes Leroy; rug appliance, Hugh Miller.

The Day Care Center Seniors also participate in a today's events, participate in stich and chat session, ceramics class, conducted by Marie Fazande, program-aide and instructor, and many other day to day activities.

The personnel employed by the center, prepare and initiate new ideas to keep the seniors entertained.

Such activities include: provision of transportation to and from their home, shopping at the super markets, and visits to the doctor and stores.

Recreation activities include: game days, and the monthly birthday parties.

The Senior Citizen Center in Bay St. Louis, did not come out of oblivian, by chance. These Hancock County citizens, Mrs. Mae Beyer, former Mayor Warren Carver and Lucien Kidd, saw the need to have programs for the older American citizens. They comprised a three County Board with the Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District for the first Area wide Model Project for Senior Citizens in the

If it wasn't for our board of supervisors and city officials, we would be at the bottom of the list, but because of their foresight and support, Hancock County became the first and best in the state with programs for the elderly.

The main hub in the wheel of progress goes to Eve Mc-Donald, whose foresight and determination helped make the Hancock Senior Citizens Center the success it is today.

Eve McDonald became the first county-wide co-ordinator. In February 1972 she hired Rosine Jushaway, who is still' employed at the Center. Rosine is now our program specialist.

Deana Curvey was the first recreation director, and when revenue sharing money became available. Don Mauffray was hired as full time recreation director. Jim Hoda is the recreation director at the presesnt time, and due to the expansion of recreation activities at the center, Fred Horn was hired to assist Jim.

Many changes were made through the years. Miss Beth Chevis is the new director for the Day Care Center and Mrs. Eve McDonald is now Mult-Purpose Director over all of the programs. Mrs. Gloria Madere is co-ordinator for Information & Referral; Mrs. Pamela Jones is site manager for the Nutrition Department; Mrs. Edith Chevis, clerktypist; Ogianna Lovell, Senior Aide. # What is a Senior Citizen?

has lived long enough for the windmills of life to give him or her knowledge of life, yet one who has often heard said, youth is wasted on the young, but has also found that youth returns with wisdom. The regeneration of the mind that comes with age is the vouchsafe of youthful

Our Senior Citizens have lived through and some served the heartaches of our countries darkest hours of the four wars, a depression, a boom, and sharedits pride and joy in its great and awesome medical breakthrough. Too, they have shared in the building of the greatest nation mankind has ever known, and shared the great thrill of one of it's young, brave and great men taking the first step on the moon, as alwaysnot selfishly for us, but "a great step for all mankind." Now in their golden years, they do not give up, nor retire to that proverbial rocking chair, but instead, eyes though now weak, look forward to the sunrise of another glorious day, and eagerly thank their Maker for again allowing them the privilege of serving their fellow-

Today the communities throughout our country and, yes, the world - would be lost without these young at heart but old with wisdom of coping citizens.

In Hancock County we are fortunate to have somewhere near 3,000 of these benefactors. They serve each and every day, the youngest in our head start programs, by becoming "Foster Grandparents" to the less fortunate elders in our Nursing Homes. Also, they visit and aid the sick, and take part in Gospel Music festivities every Wednesday afternoon. Their accomplishments in their endeavors have brought many invitations for their singing from members of churches in and outside of our community. Charles Johnson, their director, has received many accolades for the lifting of the spirits of others in their message of

Mrs. Theresa James, Director of Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), could spend life times relating the many problems for both young and old, solved by our caring Seniors, calling daily to check on the sick and give a kind word to the lonely; a mother with an illness to herself, hampering her family duties, has been rescued with the constant vigil of volunteers.

To the world mountains were not moved but, those in need, when they see the beautiful smile and wise twinkle of an eye saying that's alright, we'll conquer it together, recognize Faith, Hope and Love as not just pretty meaningless words, but an actuality.

Our Seniors volunteer to work with the American Cancer Society, Information and Referral, Nutrition, Public Library, Recreation, RSVP Office, Day Care to the Elderly, Waveland Hospitality Center, United Way, Welfare Waveland Civic Center, Silver Creek School,

Good Will, and Health Department. The Senior Citizen of this decade does not have many idle moments, today he is an asset, not a liability to our community.

Robert Frost, one of our native poets, when he himself was a Senior, said that your life always continues in health, wealth, and beauty, as long as someone else needs and loves you. Therefore, the most beautiful art gallery in our community is not contained in a stuffy building of vintage, but the living pictures, of our Senior Citizens, with the beauty of love painted forever in their shining eyes, glowing smiles of happiness, with natures' own beautiful frames of snow white hair to complete the most priceless art collection. This is what it means to be a Senior and the heritage of love is left for generations in the wonderful memories left behind, not only to our own family members but, to all the Community family which we, the Seniors, have touched.

So these truly are the Golden

Jeremiah Henly, Hancock resident who retreated from Moscow with Napoleon

the facts of the history of this have lived here since the white man first came to what is now Pearl River and Hancock counties, and after interviewing more than 250 old people it has been my good fortune to find the story of one of the most interesting personalities.

Jeremiah Henly lived at what is now Henlyfield community, so called because that was his home. A great grandson, H.V.Henly, now deceased and who lived in California, furnished me with most of the information about this unusual man. This man who lived out west of Picayune a few miles on Pearl River was said to be the only man from Mississippi to serve in the French foreign legion on the march of the French army to the occupation of Moscow, the capital of Russia, who lived to return to this state.

Jeremiah Henly was born in 1773 in Salisbury, North Carolina. He was the son of Darby Henly, a contractor who built houses. When along about 1807, the North Carolina -Henlys-heard glowing tales of the opportunities for settlers in Mississippi territory, they moved to Claiborne County, Miss. Finding many new settlers in that county and more competition for land. Jeremiah heard glowing reports from travellers that there was a great section of valuable land down on Pearl River. Not being tied down in Claiborne County, he came on down to what was then Hancock County. He liked the country but better still he met the beautiful young daughter of Burwell Perry who then lived in Henlyfield. They were married, and that meant that Jeremiah would settle permanently in this new country along Pearl River.

As a result of his friendship with Simon Favre who had much influence the French authorities, Jeremiah was River a few miles west of Picayune, His father-in-law, Burwell Perry at that time owned the Griffin place where the old church at Henlyfield now stands. Perry wanted more land, and Jeremiah wanted better located land, so they traded.

There were four reasons why Jeremiah wanted the land that is now known as main road, in fact only road on the old map of this section; second, the land was fertile and partly cleared and in cultivation; third, there was a clear running spring of cool water at the foot of the bluff on which the house was built and 4th, the road to Pool's Bluff turned off the Gainesville to Columbia road there, to go to the only ferry in the area and the only place where Pearl River could be crossed in the general area. I might add that most old homes in the old days were built near springs of good water.

Jeremiah Henly was a restless, adventurous, inquiring type man. He wanted to know what was going on around him and soon became acquainted with the people of this whole area. He became friendly with Simon Favre and others friendly to the French. Like many people today he wanted to know more about far away places. He heard from the French people much talk about France, Paris and there arose in him a keen desire to go to those places famous and far away. so when he learned that by joining the French Foreign Legions he could get free transportation to France, he with several others signed up for a tour of duty in the far named French foreign legions. Another attraction was that he would get paid for his time while in the French and their families will be available locally when a Field Service Unit of the Disabled American Veterans (DAV) visits the Gulf Coast on Tuesday, Sept. 6th. This is the fourth consecutive year that one of these 26-foot mobile offices has toured the state. providing free counseling and claims service to veterans and their families.

The DAV Field Service Unit will be located at VFW Post No. 2434, Howard Ave. in Biloxi from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The traveling veterans' service facility will be manned by DAV National Service Officers who are fully qualified to assist veterans and their families in filing claims for Federal and State benefits to which they are entitled by law. These include disability compensation, pension, employment rights, job training, educational benefits, hospitalization and medical care, social security, death claims and other matters.

During the first three years of the DAV's nationwide tour with its fleet of nine Field Units, 149,000 Service veterans and dependents contacted the mobile offices for assistance. As a result of these visits, DAV National Service Officers filed 7,600 new claims and reopened another 46,000 claims for veterans' benefits. A veteran need not be a member of the DAV to take advantage of this free service.

federal benefits totaling $495 million for veterans and their families. The DAV employs 280 full-time National Service Officers - more than 80 percent of whom are disabled Vietnam Era veterans - at Veterans Administration installations throughout the country. "However, the location of some VA facilities makes it difficult for many veterans, as well as their widows and dependents, to personally visit a DAV National Service Office," said Denvel D. Adams. DAV National Adjutant. "The DAV's Field Service Unit program carries assistance right to the veteran's doorstep." Officials urge veterans of all wars, particularly disabled veterans, to visit the organization's mobile service unit to discuss any problems they may have concerning benefits. "Special emphasis is placed on Vietnam Era, veterans because large numbers of these young men' and women are not taking advantage of the benefits they've earned," said Adams, especially in the areas of education and vocational rehabilitation.'

Hurricane Virginia...

conditions will be simulated here by the Mobile meteorologists in a program presented in cooperation with state civil defense officials from Jackson.

Boudin said the day-long program designed to test local officials on their problem-solving decisions under emergency conditions is slated to begin at 8:30 a.m.

The director of the Bay-Waveland-Hancock County Civil Defense Council said the "Weather Service people" from Mobile have been working on the program for the Hancock County area for several months.

"They have packed some 72 hours of simulated hurricane conditions into the four or five hours of the first part of the program," Boudin said.

Following the morning session, program participants will break for lunch, Boudin said, and then return for a "critique" session in the afternoon presided over by the meteorologists and state CD officials. Boudin said some 20 elected officials, department heads, fire and police chiefs, Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Hancock County have been invited at

- He urged any invited official who is unable to attend to send a representative from his office to the program. "If we make a mistake during a simulated exercise such as "Hurricane Virginia," there's no injury, loss of life or damage to property," he em-

deadly," he said.

The necessity for such a program on hurricane survival in this area is emphasized by the fact that there are several newly-elected officials in Waveland, Bay St. Louis and Hancock County who have not served in an official capacity since the last hurricane here in 1969.

The actual program to be followed on the day of the exercise is being maintained in secrecy by the state officials in Jackson and the weather service personnel in Mobile, Boudin said.

Also invited to attend, Boudin said, are appropriate officials from utility companies in the area.

He noted that National Guard officials would also function out of the CD Council's Emergency Operations Center-site of the Hurricane Virginia program-in the event of an actual emergency.

But he noted the National Guard is the only agency which will not participate in the program on Sept. 9, "since they are constantly in training for just such emergencies."

In addition, Bay St. Louis AM radio station WPUP will also participate in the exercise. Boudin said WPUP, broadcasting over 1190 kc's is his principal means of disseminating information during the height of an emergency when phone lines and power lines are frequently downed.

He said the program will stress the proper order of seeking aid in such an emergency, from local, state, and federal sources.
